Ricky travels the United States helping people with their horses. He carries on the tradition of the Vaquero style of horsemanship, creating a true partnership with his horses. It can be difficult to put into words what Ricky does for horses and people alike. More often than not, riding with Ricky can be a life-changing experience. FOUNDATION HORSEMANSHIP is an expansion of the principles learned in the colt starting. He works on getting to the feet through groundwork, hindquarters, reaching with the front, accepting a flag, ropes, slickers, release of pressure, etc. HORSEMANSHIP 1 continues on this path. The better things get from the ground, the more time is spent riding and utilizing the same principles from the horses back to get a job done of a much higher quality. No matter which class you choose, Ricky will challenge you to better your skills while helping keep you safe with your horse.
